*"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path."
Psalm 119:105*

Jeremiah 31:4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry. 5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of SAMARIA: the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things. 6 For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the MOUNT EPHRAIM shall cry, 'Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God'. 7 For thus saith the LORD; Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Israel. 8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither. 9 They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.

ISRAEL MUST POSSESS THE WEST BANK

The above verses from the Prophecy of Jeremiah are the declaration of Almighty God that Israel will again occupy the what is falsely called "the West Bank." This region is really the region of Samaria where Jesus preached to "the woman at the well" and in Old Testament times, was home to the Israeli tribes Ephraim, Manasseh and Benjamin. The Samaritan Church still exists there.

Although these verses point forward to the Kingdom of God with Jesus, the Son of David, it nevertheless is speaking of today when the hounded "remnant of Israel" is returning in significant numbers back to their Land!

TERRORISM SENDS JEWS HOME TO ISRAEL

The ongoing terrorist attacks in Europe, England and Africa are contributing to the Aliya of thousands of Jews to Israel and causing problems with the infrastructure, trying to settle them into existing units.

In previous editions, SOT has quoted Jeremiah 16:16

"Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks....15... and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers."

This mounting internal pressure may boil over into more conflict with the 'Palestinians' to fulfil even more prophecies which speak of the present influx.

Isaiah 49:18 As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doeth. 19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away. 20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

NORTH KOREA ON NUCLEAR THRESHOLD.

WHAT ABOUT IRAN?

DEBKAFILE EXCLUSIVE ANALYSIS

Israeli satellite images reveal 'Iranian missile facility' under construction in Syria.

The Independent Online 16-Aug-17

In a White Paper published last week, the Japanese Defence Ministry reported evidence that North Korea had achieved miniaturization of nuclear weapons, meaning that it could build a nuclear warhead small enough to fit onto an intercontinental ballistic missile. Hardly anyone noticed that on Monday, Aug. 7 North Korea and Iran signed new military accords, which are no less dangerous to world peace. They covered the continuing transfer of nuclear and missile technology from Pyongyang to Tehran, and signed by Parliament Speaker Kim Yong Nam, who is rated No. 2 in the Kim regime, after 10 days in Tehran with a large military delegation.

The irony is that while the Security Council approved tough economic sanctions for North Korea, Kim Jong-un managed to lay his hands on enough cash from Tehran to keep his nuclear and missile programs moving apace. Some of that cash comes from the sanction relief the Americans and Europeans granted Iran for signing its 2015 nuclear deal.

The Israeli government's main worry as the civil war next door has evolved is Tehran's growing influence over the Syrian regime. New imagery released by image Sat, which operates Israel's EROS-B satellite, reportedly show the first ever Scud missile factory being built inside war-torn Syria. The pictures resemble a missile plant in Tehran, Israeli media reports said on Tuesday. Experts told Channel 2 the sophisticated construction could not have been undertaken without Iranian experts operating inside Syria.

They believe the facility, on which work began at some point last year, has both production and underground storage capabilities of long-range missiles which are capable of striking Israel. They believe it will be completed by the end of 2017. Israel's main worry as the more than six-year-long conflict next door in Syria has evolved has become Iran's political influence over the government of Bashar al-Assad, and the presence of Iran's Revolutionary Guards, Hezbollah and Shia militias which take part in the fighting. Both Iran and the allied Lebanese militant organisation have sworn the destruction of the Jewish state.

"Our policy is clear: We vehemently oppose the military build-up by Iran and its proxies, primarily Hezbollah, in Syria and we will do whatever it takes to protect Israel's security," Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said in a speech last week, warning that as Isis was displaced in the country Iran would try to strengthen its position. show all It emerged last week that Israeli officials had tried to thwart a recent US and Russian brokered peace deal regarding Syria's restive south over worries it gave Iran too much power.

Are Jihadists Taking over Europe?

In the light of present developments in Spain, this report seems "out of date." Nevertheless, scrutiny of its content will reveal that the threat revealed here is only getting worse by the hour as Islamic jihadis terrorism gathers momentum in its world-wide quest.

SOT has, over the past 20 years, drawn attention to Revelation Chapter 9 in which the present situation was foretold almost 2000 years ago!

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates. 15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for the hour, and the day, and the month, and the year, for to slay the third part of men. 16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

That the Euphrates region is deeply involved in the final scene is evident by its mention in Chapter 16 where it is "dried up" prior to Armageddon.

"Germany is quietly building a European army under its command," according to some in the media. Apparently German Chancellor Angela Merkel, after her clash with U.S. President Donald Trump, would like to invest, along with France, in a European army.

At present, however, there is just one real army in Europe -- the Jihadist Army, as in the terrorists who struck London on June 3 and murdered seven people, just two weeks after carnage in Manchester.

In the four European countries most targeted by terror attacks -- Britain, France, Belgium and Germany -- the number of official extremists has reached 66,000. That sounds like a real army, on active duty.

Intelligence officers have identified 23,000 Islamic extremists living in Britain as potential terrorists. The number reveals the real extent of the jihadist threat in the UK. The scale of the Islamist challenge facing the security services was disclosed after intense criticism that many opportunities to stop the Manchester suicide bomber had been overlooked.

French authorities are monitoring 15,000 Islamists, according a database created in March 2015 and managed by France's Counter-Terrorism Coordination Unit. Different surveys estimate up to 20,000 French radical Islamists.

The number on Belgium's anti-terror watch-list surged from 1,875 in 2010 to 18,884 in 2017. In Molenbeek, the well-known jihadist nest in the EU capital, Brussels, intelligence services are monitoring 6,168 Islamists. Think about that: 18,884 Belgian jihadists compared to 30,174 Belgian soldiers on active duty.

The number of potential jihadists in Germany has exploded from 3,800 in 2011 to 10,000, according to Hans-Georg Maassen, head of the Office for the Protection of the Constitution (Germany's domestic intelligence service).

These Islamists have built a powerful infrastructure of terror inside Europe's cities. These terror bases are self-segregated, multicultural enclaves in which extremist Muslims promote Islamic fundamentalism and implement Islamic law, Sharia -- with the Tower Hamlets Taliban of East London; in the French banlieues [suburbs], and in The Hague's "sharia triangle", known as "the mini-caliphate," in the Netherlands. These extremist Muslims can comfortably get their weapons from the Balkans, where, thanks to Europe's open borders, they can travel with ease. They can also get their money from abroad, thanks to countries such as Qatar and Saudi Arabia. These Islamists can self-finance through the mosques they run, as well as get "human resources," donated by unvetted mass migration coming through the Mediterranean.

23,000 potential jihadists in the UK, 18,000 in Belgium, 10,000 in Germany, 15,000 in France. What do these numbers tell us? There might be a war in Europe "within a few years", as the chief of the Swedish army, General Anders Brännström, told the men under his command that they must expect.

Take what happened in Europe with the terror attacks from 1970 to 2015: "4,724 people died from bombings. 2,588 from assassinations. 2,365 from assaults. 548 from hostage situations. 159 from hijackings. 114 from building attacks. Thousands were wounded or missing".

Terrorism across Europe has killed 10,537 people in 18,803 reported attacks. And it is getting worse:

"Attacks in 2014 and 2015 have seen the highest number of fatalities, which includes terrorists targeting civilians, government officials, businesses and the media, across Europe since 2004".

A jihadist takeover of Europe is no longer unthinkable. Islamic extremists are already reaping what they sowed: they successfully defeated Geert Wilders and Marine Le Pen, the only two European candidates who really wanted to fight radical Islam. What if tomorrow these armed Islamists assault the Parliament in Rome, election polls in Paris, army bases in Germany or schools in London, in a Beslan-type attack?

The terrorists' ransom is already visible: they have destabilized the democratic process in many European countries and are drafting the terms of freedom of expression. They have been able to pressure Europe into moving the battle-front from the Middle East to Europe itself. Of all the French soldiers engaged in military operations, half are deployed inside France; in Italy, more than half of Italian soldiers are used in "Safe Streets," the operation keeping Italy's cities safe.

After 9/11, the United States decided to fight the Islamists in Afghanistan and Iraq, not to have to fight them in Manhattan. Europe chose the opposite direction: it as if Europe had accepted to turn its own cities into a new Mosul.

If Europe's leaders do not act now to destroy the enemy within, the outcome may well come to be an "Afghan scenario," in which Islamists control part of the territory from where they launch attacks against cities. Europe could be taken over the same way Islamic State took over much of Iraq: with just one-third of Iraqi territory.
